TO PROTECT SEALS.

...Trial in the Bering Sea Case is ...Handed Down in Paris.

POINTS FOR UNITED STATES.

...Sixty Mile Zone In Which Sealing is Prohibited—Decision Satisfactory to the Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Secretary of State has received valuable advices from Paris giving the decision of the arbitration tribunal on the Bering sea question. That is to say, the tribunal has decided:

1. That Russia did not assert and exercise exclusive jurisdiction in Bering sea and on the seal fisheries therein prior to the cession of Alaska to the United States.

2. Consequently Great Britain never conceded any such rights to Russia.

3. That Bering sea was not included in the phrase Pacific ocean as used in the treaty of 1825 between Great Britain and Russia, and

4. Consequently no exclusive rights of jurisdiction over fishing seals and other fisheries therein passed to the United States with Alaska under the treaty of 1867.

The information is that it is under the fifth of the five points submitted to arbitration by article 6 of the treaty, that the concession as to a close season and a zone protected from sealing and the prohibition of the use of fire arms apply. This fifth point was the one on which greatest stress was laid in argument by the United States counsel. It raised the question whether the United States had any right of protection on property in the fur seal frequenting the islands of Bering sea outside the 3 mile limit. The preliminary abstract of the decision received is regarded here as implying that the tribunal to a certain extent has conceded this right. Only in future seal life will be protected by virtue of an international agreement entered into under the award of arbitration and not solely by authority of a United States statute.

It is further understood that a close season is established to begin May 1 and to continue until July 31. This close season shall be observed both in the North Pacific and in Bering sea.

A protected zone is established extending for sixty miles around the islands.

Pelagic sealing is allowed outside the zone in Bering sea from Aug. 1. The use of firearms in sealing is prohibited. The American arbitrators have expressed their satisfaction with the text of the decision.

Frederick R. Coudert, who was one of the counsel for the United States before the tribunal, when shown the cable dispatch announcing the decision said: "If this is so I am quite satisfied. The object of the United States was to protect its property in seals. If the effect of the decision is to protect the seal the object of the United States is gained even though our government should not have the satisfaction of maintaining all its theories." Mr. Coudert was particularly pleased with that portion of the decision prohibiting the use of fire-arms in sealing.

Ex-Minister Phelps, when asked his opinion of the decision said: "I regard it as favorable to the United States and as giving all that the government requires."

Minister Blount's Stand.

HONOLULU, Aug. 8, (via San Francisco, Aug. 15.)—It has lately transpired that Minister Blount has taken a definite stand back of the provisional government on certain demands made by the Japanese. Prominent annexationists declare Blount to be favorable to the establishment of a protectorate over Hawaii. Minister Blount is greatly vexed at the stories set afloat by Claus Spreckels, implicating him in the cane presentation by the royalists. The royalists are not favorably impressed by the proposed new treaty from Washington, while on the other hand the annexationists are elated and assert that they have still other grounds for believing that the beginning of the end has been reached.

The Parade of Unemployed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The special committee appointed last week to arrange for a conference of representatives of all trades for the purpose of considering the condition of the unemployed, sent out a call for the conference yesterday to over 200 unions. The conference is to be held at 2 p. m. next Sunday.

The general sentiment as gathered from the various replies was in favor of a demonstration of the unemployed. The more cautious of the labor leaders believe that it would be better to have no parade than to have a parade representing only a section of unemployed.

Trading in Currency.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The trading in currency was light to-day and the premiums commanded ran from 1½ to 2½ per cent. Continued inquiries from gold importers and the decrease in the supply of spot bills has strengthened the market for sterling exchange, and some of the leading drawers advanced their posted rates ½ to $4.83½ and $4.88½. The offerings for future delivery of cotton, grain and provisions are liberal.

The premium on gold to arrive has fallen to ½ to 1 per cent. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have $625,000 on the steamers Ems and Havel.

Coatsworth Elevator Burned.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The Coatsworth elevator, situated on Michigan and Ganson streets, having a capacity of 1,200,000 bushels, and valued at three-quarters of a million dollars, was totally destroyed by fire this morning. About a dozen frame structures, mostly saloons and dwellings, were also burned. Two firemen, Charles Wagner and Captain Gordon of engine 9, were overcome by the heat, and removed to an hospital. The elevator did not contain more than 20,000 bushels. Loss, $80,000, covered by insurance.

Senator Chandler's Opinion.

TOPEKA, Aug. 15.—The opinion of Senator Chandler, of the Elections committee of the U. S. Senate, regarding the contest of S. W. Ady against Senator Martin, was received here to day. He holds that no election was had and that Senator Martin is not entitled to the seat because he did not receive a majority of all the votes of the joint convention. Martin received 63 votes.

Iowa Republican League.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 15.—A long day of hard work by the friends of the numerous candidates for Governor, has not served to materially change the situation from last night. It is conceded on all sides that F. D. Jackson will go into the convention to-morrow with about 500 of the 602 votes required to nominate. Chairman Blythe said to-night that Jackson would surely be nominated on the second or third ballot.

Jackson is being fought by the other candidates on the ground that he represents the railroad and corporation interests of the State. On the other hand he has the cordial support of the young men and that element of the party which favors a modification of the prohibitory law. It is practically agreed that prohibition will no longer be a test of fealty to the Republican party in Iowa. The present plan to adopt a non-committal temperance plank and let the party select legislative candidates according to their sentiment on the subject in that vicinity.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

The Northern Pacific Road Succumbs to Hard Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. Thomas F. Oakes of New York, H. C. Payne of Milwaukee and H. C. Rouse of the Kansas and Texas road were appointed receivers of the Northern Pacific Railroad company this afternoon.

The receivership will be the Northern Pacific Railroad company and all the property owned, leased or controlled by the said corporation. The receivers will give a bond for $2,000,000.

The general depression and lack of business has forced the Northern Pacific company to acquiesce in an application for the appointment of receivers. Payment of bond interest could only have been carried out by borrowing money and increasing the floating debt, which would have entailed heavy duties on the foreign stockholders of the company. The road has demonstrated in the past what its earning capacity really is and when prosperous times return the revenues of the company will again more than exceed the expectations of those interested in the property.

Displacing Chinese Labor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—At Selma, a small town near Fresno, white men notified the Chinese that they must leave town and make room for white laborers. At Fresno yesterday unemployed men to the number of 200 held a meeting and paraded through the streets denouncing the Chinese. The crowd started toward Chinatown, where 2000 Chinese reside, but were diverted from their purpose by cool headed citizens. The merchants and manufacturers of Fresno held a meeting and many of them announced that they would discharge their Chinese help and employ white labor. One man took thirty white men on the spot and marched them off to his vineyard. Another announced that he in a few days would have work for 200 men. Thus far there have been no outrages and it looks as if the unemployed white men on the San Joaquin valley would displace Chinese labor.

Kansas G. A. R.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Aug. 15.—The tenth annual session of the Kansas G. A. R. encampment opened here to-day. About a thousand tents have been pitched and nearly all are occupied by old soldiers from every section of the State. A great effort to keep politics out of the encampment is being made and so far has proved successful. Hon. John J. Ingalls will speak to-morrow afternoon and a tremendous crowd is expected.

Heavy Rains in Kansas.

ATCHISON, Kan., Aug. 15.—The continued heavy rains, which have been playing such havoc along the Burlington and Missouri River railroad, near White Cloud, added another half mile of that road's track to its already long list of depredations this afternoon, sweeping it into the Missouri river. The smaller streams in that vicinity are all out of their banks and the country is flooded, causing great loss to farmers and endangering many lives.

To Begin Criminal Proceedings.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 15.—At a meeting of seventy-five depositors of the suspended Kansas City Safe Deposit and Savings bank to-night, it was resolved to begin criminal proceedings against Cashier E. C. Sattley and President J. C. Darrah, for receiving deposits knowing the bank to be insolvent.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Silver bullion on deposit against warrants, 161,033 ounces.

Money on call has been easy, ranging from 3 to 5 per cent., last loan at 4 per cent., closing offered at 4.

The stock market was extremely dull throughout the day and a still lower range of prices prevailed. The true cause for the unsettled state of affairs of yesterday and to day developed after 3 o'clock, when it was learned that the syndicate formed to take the collateral trust notes of the Northern Pacific to liquidate the floating debts, has been disrupted and that on the application of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, receivers had been appointed for that property. This sudden turn of affairs explains the steady outpouring of all the Northern Pacific securities. North American, which company holds a certain amount of Northern Pacific bonds was naturally affected and sold lower than it ever had before.

During the last, despite the heaviness of the Northern Pacific group, there was a rally of ¼ to ½ per cent. and the improvement was fairly well maintained at the close. One hundred and forty-four thousand nine hundred and sixteen shares changed hands all day. The market closed much steadier than the opening.

WAR AT PARACHUTE

Cattle and Sheep Men in a Desperate Encounter.

THREE ARE REPORTED KILLED.

Other State News—President Jeffery Makes a Statement About the D. & R. G.—Why Earnings Decrease—No Receiver Contemplated.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 15.—Excitement over the sheep trouble at Parachute creek continues unabated. It is reported to night that three cattlemen are killed and the sheep men are penned up in a canon and fighting stubbornly. The trouble arises over the attempt of the cattlemen to drive the sheep men out of the country.

Sunday evening Mr. Bogetter, a well known sheep man, arrived at Parachute and reported that early in the morning a party of about thirty armed and masked men appeared on the mesa among the sheep herders and put a rope around one man's neck and drove the balance of the herders and sheep out of the country and warned the men not to drive the sheep back into the country under penalty of death. On Monday a formidable band of sheep men started to drive the sheep back again. The fight is supposed to be the result. A number of cattlemen came into De Beque to-night for arms and ammunition and reported the fight.

No Receiver for the Rio Grande.

DENVER, Aug. 15.—Reports having been circulated throughout the country that the Denver and Rio Grande was passing into the hands of a receiver if the earnings continued to decrease, President Jeffery to night made the following statement:

The large falling off in the receipts of the road during August, amounting to between 40 and 50 per cent., has startled the investing public, but it must be remembered that August, 1892, was the largest month the company ever had, the receipts of the passenger department alone being swelled some $100,000, and the freight and express nearly as much more due to the Knights Templar conclave." He denies that a receiver is contemplated.

To Correct Wild Reports.

DENVER, Aug. 15.—The Rocky Mountain Field club, which is composed of managers and special agents of insurance companies doing business in Colorado, met in special session at the Brown hotel to day to discuss the present situation affecting insurance matters in Colorado. There was a large attendance of members.

Particular reference was made to wild reports published in Eastern papers concerning this State, and H. T. Larney, C. T. Wilson and E. O. L. Buck were appointed a committee to draw up a truthful report of the state of affairs to forward to Eastern and Western managers.

Getting Around the Law.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—It is reported that W. K. Vanderbilt's magnificent new steam yacht Valiant has been registered as the property of the Valiant Steam Yacht Co., Limited, a corporation chartered under the laws of Great Britain. The supposition is that Mr. Vanderbilt will purchase the yacht from the Valiant company when she arrives in this country.

This course has doubtless been followed by Mr. Vanderbilt to avoid a revival of the vexatious questions which followed the seizure of F. W. Vanderbilt's steam yacht Conqueror. In that case the collector claimed that the Conqueror was dutiable as imported merchandise, and collected $35,000 in duties.

Scramble to Deposit.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 15.—The Armourdale bank at Armourdale, which suspended business in the financial crash in the two Kansas Cities one month ago to day, reopened its doors and resumed business this morning. There was a scramble to deposit.

FORT SCOTT, Aug. 15.—The First National bank of this city, which suspended on July 18, will resume business in the morning. The examiner pronounces it in splendid shape.

Kincaid's Disappearance.

TOPEKA, Aug. 15.—Information has been received at the office of the State bank commissioners of the flight of Robert Kincaid, president of the Citizens' bank of Mound City, Linn county. Linn county people alone hold his personal notes for $200,000.

Mr. Blount's Arrival.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Among the passengers on the steamer Gaelic, which arrived this morning, were James H. Blount, American minister to Hawaii, and Mr. Yag, the new Chinese minister to the United States.

Ex-Minister of Japan Frank I. Coombs also arrived on the Gaelic.

Minister Blount considered the provisional government a fixture not to be disturbed unless the United States should see fit to change its policy hereafter.

A Record Breaker.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 15.—The second day's races at the Fort Wayne Driving park developed a surprise in the 2 year-old pacing class. Lena Hill, without a break, came under the wire in 2:17½, the fastest mile ever paced by a 2-year-old on an Indiana track and the best record for this year.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

The paid admissions to the World's Fair grounds to-day were 121,384.

A shortage of $1,500 was discovered in the accounts of the receiver of the government land office at Sidney, Neb.

George Boham of Rosendale, Mo., a prominent stock raiser, farmer and speculator, last night committed suicide.

Fire started in the Art gallery at the World's Fair yesterday, but was extinguished before much damage had been done.

C. O. Rice & Co., dealers of carpets in St. Paul made an assignment to Kennet C. Clark. The assets of the firm are about $75,000 and the liabilities about $100,000.

Humboldt, Neb., was struck by a cyclone last night. The farmhouse of G. Schultz was unroofed and all the buildings leveled to the ground. Mrs. Schultz was fatally injured and her 12 year old son seriously injured. A mile east the farmhouse of Joe Holecheck was taken from its foundations.

The large coal works of the Western Coal company at Fleming, Kan., burned to the ground last night. The fire will throw out of employment about three hundred men.

Three hundred men, the entire force of the Manitoba and Northwestern railway, went out on a strike at Winnipeg on account of the reduction of wages of 10 per cent.

A cloud burst about 5 o'clock at Atchison, Kas., and flooded everything. The sewers and small streams were turned into raging torrents, cellars were flooded, causing considerable loss of property.

An endeavor on the part of the city officers to float over $200,000 of Omaha paving bonds met with a flat refusal last week in the money markets of the East. Since that time the bonds have been sold to private contractors nearer home.

James Witten, a society leader at Trenton, N. J., committed suicide yesterday. He was one of the first bicycle riders in the State and his name dwelt on bicycle records and routes to the exclusion of other matters until it became unbearable.

Attempted to Break Jail.

A daring attempt at jail break was made at the El Paso county jail yesterday morning. Frank Robertson, alias California Jack, held for burglary in Eastern Oregon, succeeded in getting out of his cell and made things very lively for Jailer John Boal. The cell door in the west wing did not close perfectly because Robertson had tampered with it. When the jailer went in the burglar made a break for the front entrance. He ran around into the kitchen and got a big carving knife and was about to cut his way through. Jailer Boal drew his revolver, but it missed fire. At that moment help came and Robertson was taken back to his cell.

He is a desperate criminal and has recently served a sentence in San Quentin prison.

An Odd Occupation.

The class of men who live by waking up the toilers of Paris during the early morning in time for work have now a prototype, or two in New York. There is an old cripple living in William street who gets up at a, m. each day and begins a tour of the residential shutters and windows to arouse his customers. He is a Frenchman himself and was able to drum up a good trade in almost no time. Elevated train hands, watchmen, storekeepers and other timed workers patronize him, and his rates are a cent a day. He has nearly 50 customers, and this novel work is done in about three hours. The rest of the time he presumably puts in at another occupation.

When he first started, the policemen on the various beats he traversed eyed him with suspicion, but after he had explained matters there was no further interference with him. The number of his clients grew so rapidly that the cripple's wife left her washtub and the pair doubled their rates. Now many a working girl, who once lived in daily dread of a line for lateness at the shop or factory, rests undisturbed, knowing that "granny" will not fail with her knock at the right time. There are regrettable evidences now that the worthy pair's vocation will be soon done to death.—New York Press.

A Disfigured Painting.

While I was in the gallery at the capitol the other day my attention was called to what seemed to me a very strange thing. A bright, vivacious young lady was admiring that massive picture which represents the baptism of Pocahontas, when she suddenly uttered an exclamation of surprise and pointed to one of the Indian characters.

"See that Indian's foot," she said, pointing to an aboriginal who was sitting down intently watching the ceremony.

"Keep quiet," continued the matron who had accompanied her. "You are attracting attention."

"But look," persisted the young lady. "The artist who painted that picture gave that Indian six toes."

Against vigorous protestations the young lady was led away. I examined the character in question, and sure enough the artist had made of this particular "poor Lo" a freak. One of the feet is disfigured by a sixth toe.—Washington News.

The Cuban Masher.

"In a train in Cuba," says an American traveler, "a young fellow passing a mother and her radiantly beautiful daughter on his way out of the car doffed his hat, stood straight and talked to the couple he had never before seen, and with the dignity of a veritable Don Quixote said in Spanish, 'Old woman, keep that daughter of heaven by beauty for the unworthy one before you!' Then he strode away, and nobody assaulted him. The aged senora responded pleasantly, 'I will faithfully keep her!' Possibly the fair senora's tan moved a little more rapidly at the compliment. But nobody thought amiss of the episode or, for that matter, anything at all about it save myself."

Engaging Dinner Souvenirs.

At an engagement dinner given on the last day of bachelorhood to 24 bachelor friends, each guest found at his plate a miniature lady. Each fair maid was different in feature, form, and style of dress, but all were dainty and pretty enough to be treasured as souvenirs and suggestive of possibilities.—New York Letter.

For Nautical Young Ladies.

Pampas cloth is very pretty and is much like the pineapple cloth of old days, but is now more regular in its weave. This is striped, plaided or embroidered by machine or made plain with light lace garniture. Duck and other canvaslike material are much worn, particularly by those young ladies who like to be thought nautical. There is cotton duck, and there is linen duck. The cotton soils quickly and does not wear so long as the linen, but the linen does not wash as well as the cotton. The ducks are prettier when made with black or very dark blue velvet trimmings.

THE BERING SEA DECISION

If the full text of the decision of the International Arbitration Commission on the Bering Sea question confirms the summary presented this morning in our telegraphic dispatches and we have no doubt it will, this country has won a great and notable victory, and has succeeded in establishing a new principle in international law

The exclusive rights of nations herein in Bering Sea which were supposed to have belonged to Russia and to have passed from her to the United States by the purchase of Alaska are indeed declared non existent, but the American claim to property in the seals which breed upon the Pribyloff islands did not rest upon exclusive jurisdiction in Bering Sea With a breadth of view and a boldness in striking for a new principle which amazed the British counsel our representatives at Paris took the ground that the United States had a right of property in the seals which breed upon the islands in Bering Sea which are owned by us and that these animals ought to be protected, both within Bering Sea and in the North Pacific The British, having always claimed the seals to be ferae naturae, were against this claim Their counsel ridiculed it before the tribunal, and trusted entirely to precedent to defeat it.

It seems that the American view of our right of property in the seals has been fully sustained, for the arbitrators have decided that there must be a close season of three months, from May 1 to July 31, during which no seals at all shall be taken, either in Bering sea or in the North Pacific and that during the other nine months of the year none shall be taken within sixty miles of the Pribyloff islands. Furthermore, they have prohibited the use of firearms in pelagic sealing

A more complete recognition of the American claim could not be asked We have obtained far more by the decision of the tribunal, than Great Britain would otherwise ever have been willing to concede without a war We have established our right of property in the seals, and they are henceforth to be protected by the aegis of international law

Surely this is a splendid victory for the one cardinal point to which our counsel directed their efforts has been gained All else is of minor importance

For this result the credit is due, primarily, to a statesman who is no longer alive Coming into office when everything had been left in a muddle and our case seriously compromised by his incompetent and un American predecessor, he rescued our cause and put upon it by his genius an entirely new phase. This posthumous victory will not be the least of the laurels with which history will crown the memory of the foremost American and greatest statesman of these recent years—James G Blaine

Nor should it be forgotten that great praise also is due to the other American statesman who upheld Mr. Blaine throughout the conduct of these negotiations, and who, as Chief Executive actively assisted in strengthening our case and bringing about the arbitration This settlement, in a dignified and peaceable manner, of this most vexing of international questions, is the crowning feat of the administration of Benjamin Harrison

For the extremely able and skilful conduct of our case at Paris, thanks are due to the American arbitrators, Justice Harlan and Senator Morgan, and especially to Mr Edward J. Phelps, Mr. James C Carter and Mr Frederic R Coudert who have all won high honors in this most august of legal tribunals.

The settlement of this perplexing problem, by solemn arbitration binding upon both parties, is a distinct advance in civilization In adjusting their differences in this way, the two greatest nations of the world have set an example which will have a beneficent and far reaching effect It is a triumph of reason over passion of Christian methods over barbarous methods It is an earnest of the time when war shall be no more

COUNCIL AND CITIZENS

The City Council has now done all it can do for the present to secure the construction of the new box ditch for increasing the supply of water in Lake Moraine It has passed a resolution providing for the construction of the ditch, it has provided for the manner of its construction it has invited bids for material, and it has authorized the issue of "Casualty Water Construction Warrants" to the amount of $15,000, bearing 8 per cent interest It is ready to begin the work of construction at once

Now is the time for the citizens to back up the Council by words and deeds As Mayor Strieker said in his letter printed in Sunday's GAZETTE, you can not build water works on wind They must be built with money and the money should be subscribed right here at home

The Casualty Water warrants are a good investment They bear eight per cent interest and are secured, practically by all the taxable property in the city It is eminently a case where he gives twice who gives quickly If these warrants are subscribed for promptly the new ditch can be and will be built before winter so that its benefits will be available next spring

The construction of this ditch will not settle the water question for the North End Nobody expects that it will But it is a necessary thing to be done and all good citizens should show their willingness to help the Council when it shows such a commendable degree of activity If help is afforded for this work the Council will be in a position to go ahead with the work for the relief of the North End If help in this work is not forthcoming, the Council will not at least feel encouraged to do anything more We hope that the new warrants may be all subscribed for by the end of this week

It seems probable that nothing but an earthquake can put an end to the abuses of municipal government in New York Dr Parkhurst's Society has proved within a month that there are fifty three disorderly houses and fifteen gambling houses in Police Captain Devery's precinct and that the captain himself owns one of the gambling houses and in all probability takes toll from all the rest in return for police protection This sort of thing has been going on for years, and it will need that continue to go on [illegible] New York city is governed by Tammany

Speaking of the decision of the Populists in Congress to vote for free coinage at 16 to 1 and if that fails to vote against it at any higher ratio the Denver Evening Post says

We are as much in favor of the 16 to 1 ratio as Mr Simpson can possibly be But we want remonetization anyway and if the Populist Congressmen vote with the goldbugs we ask pardon for using the epithet, they will have a monkey and parrot time when they get home We can predict that Judge Bell of this State will not make such a blunder

We trust that The Post is correct in its prediction of the course of our representative in Congress

The only race ever sailed by the four new 'cup defenders' was most unsatisfactory It was a luffing match, and the Colonia won the Goelet cup, but the question of superiority remains as much of a puzzle as ever

Sixty two pardons in seven months is Governor Waite's record and a most disgraceful one it is. Such a wholesale clemency makes a mockery of law and justice and leads directly to lynching and its attendant crimes

The People of India.

The Englishman thinks of India society as an immeasurable crowd of timid peasants easily taxed and governed by a few hands, or as a population in full of luxurious princes, with difficulty restrained by sensitive force and careful division from eating up each other In reality Indian society is more complex and varied than that of Europe conceives. It is true a large mass of peasant proprietors, but yet full of princes who are potentates and princes who are survivals of feudalism who are in all respects great nobles and landlords who are only squireens of great ecclesiastics and hungry curates of merchants like the Barings and merchants who keep shops of professions and professionals of adventurers and criminals of cities full of artificers and of savages far below the dark citizens of Hayti —London Spectator

Making the Most of a Delay.

The cars stopped for dinner at a little village, and a Baptist brother who was in the company was so interested in talking with an old friend at the table that he failed to hear the conductor's call "All aboard!" When his attention turned in that direction the train had left and there was nothing left for him but to wait six hours for the next train It occurred to him that Providence had something to do with it and he went to work to hunt up the few Baptists in the little village and to exhort them to build a Baptist church

Two years after the same brother stopped over in the same village and was shown a beautiful Baptist church and was told, "You see now why the cars left you here two years ago"—Richmond Religious Herald

ABSENCE OF A CROWD

PLENTY OF ROOM IN THE EXPOSITION GROUNDS

A Lavish Abundance of Elbow Room in All Parts of the Magnificent Grounds—The Indiana Building the Most Crowded of the State Buildings—How Women Visitors Are Dressed

WORLD'S FAIR, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—There is one feature of this exposition which strikes me with ever increasing astonishment Every day and night I am in the grounds I notice it and every morning when I read the record of the previous day's attendance I feel sure it is too large. The feature is the utter absence of a crowd so to speak Go where I may I find a lavish abundance of elbow room In all the avenues one sees about such a crowd as he would in any public garden on a pleasant Saturday But in the side paths and among the groves, on the wooded islands in the shaded places between some of the buildings and the lake there is seldom more than a few lovers or pensive promenaders who are weary of the display

I have seen just three crowds When the Maharajah of Kapurthala and his wife came rolling down the avenue between the Indiana and California Buildings in elegant wheeled chairs with that very tall Englishman who meets neither guardian walking beside them there must have been at least 10,000 people gathered In fact the crowd was almost as thick as that on the north end of the Brooklyn bridge at [illegible] in the Midway Plaisance there is sometimes a run about the open air shows and in the Indiana Building there is often a crowd from noon till 2 p m as they go there to rest and eat lunch It really does take a good many people to fill 633 chairs and the water surface should not be deducted as in the busy part of the day there are nearly as many people on that as on any equal area of the land

In the Michigan and Ohio buildings it is like walking through the quiet parlors of a first class hotel both for elegance and room the New York building is a little more crowded and that of Indiana most so of course for it was built for that and for nothing else Another fact forced upon my notice is that, as any traveled American can see at a glance a large majority of the visitors at present are from districts near Chicago Of course I do not know everybody within four hours ride of Chicago but I do know all the types and I confidentially make this statement Take Chicago as a center and a radius of 150 miles, at least half the visitors of the past week have been from towns and country places within that area If I did not know this by observation I could know it by conversation from Fort Wayne and north of that I have met at least fifty Indiana acquaintances from Evansville, New Albany and other towns I have not met one In the course of much talking and inquiring I have met one man from Mississippi and one from South Carolina—both hotel clerks

Another fact proves the general assertion A very small large part of the crowd consists of entire families that is, one sees the husband and wife doing the buildings with all their children about them down to the baby in arms It is very nice, indeed but it shows that they have not come far, and when I speak to such people their words and tones show me at once what section they live in A much more pleasing fact is that personal liberty is here carried to its maximum Many gentlemen after prolonged sight-seeing stretch out on the grass or benches or even the lounges in the state buildings or the easy chairs on the porches and snooze the snooze of the just and the weary, and no man troubles them It is Liberty hall and goes you please all over the grounds, but if the attendance doubles late in the month, Grant it, supernal powers!), they certainly will have to be a little more strict

As to the emancipation of women of which we have heard so much if it isn't carried out here, it never will be in this world Than the social freedom of the White City there can be no greater till the fair sex reach their fitting environment in that one whiter and more glorious city which the apostle in Patmos saw by the eye of faith a city wherein no evil could enter and consequently there could be no fear of being misunderstood and where transparent purity of motive was adorned but not concealed by shining robes and crowns of amaranth and gold In this White City there are of course a few who would take advantage of the prevailing freedom but their really discomfiture afords much amusement and when the social record is written up the report of the American girl to the 'masher' will add materially to the humorous literature of the day and girl certainly has learned how to take care of herself

Along with the foregoing facts goes another worth noting, the absence of attempts at style Among 1,000 women one will not see three that are richly, not to say fashionably, dressed Plain picnic costumes are the rule and some of the ladies of my acquaintance I highmightily tell me they came here to wear out their old clothes Making a man's guess at materials I should say that one half the dresses are of stout calico or some equally plain substance As to a man well he can wear anything that covers him and no one will look at him twice Indeed he can go barefooted if he likes and a few seem to be near it This place reminds me of the old country husking bee of which it was said in our part at least, that nobody need stay away on account of his clothes Freedom in clothing and freedom of talk go with other forms of innocent freedom and on the grassy plots and among the groves one sees groups of ladies who have slumped down without regard to valuation or appraisement laws The enthusiasm of the sex makes them overdo the sight seeing they are led on from beauty to beauty and are exhausted before they realize that they are tired

My walk home from the gate near Fifty eighth street leads me through the newest and presumably the will best part of that queer piece wood and staff town which suddenly sprang up in this section of Hyde Park Every third door opens into a saloon and likewise are rude and temporary hotels with here and there the wide open doors of a half theater, half concert hall from which issues the jiggy music of violin and piano or the resonant tones of the [illegible] Everybody that the entertainment is free About 9 p m every thing in this region is humming It is the Bowery and Central park, Coney Island and the county fair, a Bohemian picnic, rural excursion party and the outside of a circus show in a village, all in one And all through that region at that hour one sees groups of the very nicest kind of people sauntering along as leisurely as if in a village street

They sit on the broad walk in front of the hotels and chaffer with the peddlers of curios, listen to the gutter bands and laugh at the street Arabs, they wander among the resorts, and groups of matrons and big girls from the country regions occasionally drop into the concert halls listen awhile and go away with an expression which plainly says, "Well, we've seen it anyhow, and now we know what it is when we read about it in the newspapers It is much the same in the plaisance, but I observe many of the ladies there look around carefully before venturing into the doubtful places The authorities have "reformed" the plaisance, however till most of its far-foreign fun is banished but the Turkish theater still does a little posture dancing and I was amazed at a group I saw there the other evening The old lady at the head of it sat up like a nail stuck in a board and if Presbyterian had been stamped all over her in blue letters her standing at home couldn't have been plainer Two young ladies of twenty or thereabouts sat by her and the three looked neither to the right nor the left, but kept a steady unwinking gaze upon the dancers from first to last As they passed in going and out the old lady was talking in low but earnest tones, to which one of the younger ones replied in short snappish phrases Well—they said so much about it—I wanted to see it—and I have seen it—anyhow! And what did she see? Why nothing to compare with what she might see in any leading theater in the United States

I am often called upon to tell and so far I see nothing to contradict it that Chicago is a remarkably safe city for ladies to go about in with or without escorts and even those papers which frantically denounce Mayor Carter Harrison in their editorial columns assure intending visitors to the fair that the present peace of the city is truly marvelous and that it passes all understanding All this I can honestly say is true in all this part of the city fair ground included I have not yet seen a man who was troublesomely drunk, though I see many men who were very much discouraged In referring to the daily attitude of Chicago men habitually speak of the fair visitors who live here and the so to speak business business men who come every day or so" as affect a sort of pity for the distant people who do not come In the latter part of that sentence they are triumphant democrats in feel Here one may see the grandest lesson of this age in voluntary self government This is indeed the people's world fair this is that more of them are not here to see it

I had recently to know which department attracts the largest number of people and I tell them the honest and after some study and comparison I give the palm to the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building It is indeed a wonder Its enormous area 1,687 feet long and 787 feet wide with a height in central pavilions of 152 feet and of 50 feet over the central hall of 24 feet saving the space not needed for visitors is absolutely packed with the wonders of the world's best workers in wood wool silk ivory silver, gold coral and I cannot say how many other materials for the fair creations genius It is the world's fair in miniature There are the Spanish pavilion the French pavilion the American pavilion the great clock tower the Japanese pavilion the Polish the Australian and the Waterbury clocks and just but far from the least the exquisite little Palace of King Ludwig in the German section And no sooner do I conclude that This beats all the world ever saw before than a Japanese calls out to look at something which in his opinion completely takes the shine out of that."

Of course there are very many things in the White City which one does not appreciate at first view, many which one does not get the good of until the third or fourth view and quite as many which grow in interest every time they are examined If it were not so, this would not be the greatest show on earth for the true test of greatness in all lines is that it grows upon one The book which reveals new beauties at each reading, Gods and Homer, for instance, the natural flower even which it takes time to enjoy, the man whom one likes better the longer he knows him and the picture which ever grows in interest, these are truly great When the average man first looks upon these buildings he sees them crowned with beautiful figures and adorned with minute carvings and cornices which seem to him mere frills as it were But in time he discovers that every crowning figure has a deep meaning every cornice is assigned its place and every panel carving and window figure is a symbol of some idea in the general design of the building

On the Agricultural building for instance the banners bear the signs of Zodiac and on the stock pavilion they show the stages of development in domestic animals every carved figure on the Administration building is a condensed history, at least a score of great inventions are sculptured on the Transportation building the dome and pavilions of the Government building picture America from Leif Erikson to President Cleveland, and in the Palace of Horticulture the beautiful symbols seem almost endless In short, the outside ornaments alone deserve many days of study and to master their meaning and beauty would amount to a liberal education

Catarrh

My daughter was afflicted for nearly a year with catarrh. The physicians she made to help her, my pastor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice. There is no trace of catarrh at present. I attribute the cure to Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills, which entirely restored my daughter's health.—Mrs. Lewis Miller, Little Compton, Mass.

Rheumatism

For several years I was afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, so bad at times as to be entirely helpless. For the last two years it has been free from the effects of the disease. Tit for Tat

There is a certain Episcopal church in one of the towns of Brooklyn that rather prides itself on the wealth and fashion and lofty exclusiveness of its congregation

The church is away out of sight in the highness of its services. It was high indeed that some of the old conservative members were forced to withdraw

A few years ago the rector who thought to be a very high churchman by every one else was regarded as rather low by his parishioners succeeded in finding another and a more congenial church to which he transferred his services

After much deliberation on the part of the vestrymen it was decided in order to secure a genuine unadulterated high churchman to send to Oxford, England — the headquarters of the movement — for a clergyman about whom there could not be the slightest doubt

In due time a still dyspeptic smooth shaven young man with the clerical frock and eyeglass and a genuine English drawl was imported and placed in charge of the parish

Except to Anglo maniacs the manners of this callow chap were disgustingly offensive and bumptious

One evening at a social gathering he was introduced to a Baptist clergyman noted for his ready wit. Taking the Baptist's hand, the Anglo man said condescendingly

Ah Mr Bond glad to meet you I am sure I can believe you are a gentleman but in my position I can't recognize you as a clergyman!

Quick as a flash came the reply

And I am glad to shake hands with you as a clergyman though I cannot admit that you are a gentleman!

Fighting Among Amorous Animals

Among the lower animals sexual selection prompts combats which often end only with the death of the weaker rival. Male black snakes are apt not only to kill, but to swallow a vanquished competitor for the favors of a dusky charmer, and the champion bucks of the oryx antelope use their sharp horns to stab the pretenders who venture to challenge their supremacy. The males of the yellow breasted pine mink have been known to tumble out of a high tree top in the blind fury of their courtship combats. The cocks of the Alpine mountain grouse neither see nor hear in their eagerness to demolish a rival and have thus been actually taken alive, struggling in the very hands of their captor — not to escape, but to finish their work of vengeance — San Paul [illegible]

Couldn't Just Place Her

An old lady was accosted in a London street by a well dressed and refined looking stranger, who effusively claimed her as a friend. "I really don't believe you remember me," she exclaimed reproachfully, and the lady, moved by nothing that her memory was at fault, confessed that she could not quite recall the name. "Oh but I have changed so since you knew me," said her interlocutor gaily and after a few more lively speeches she passed on having possessed herself meanwhile of the old lady's purse

A heavy fall of rain visited this section about 5 o'clock last night. The downpour was steady for half an hour and the volume that fell must have been considerable.
